Over the Desktop

As I tried to organize and categorize the components that make up the value of Theta membership, I found myself distracted by less efficient, but no less interesting, thoughts of college. I remembered studying with Kathy at 4 a.m., and how we'd take turns catching one-minute naps, depending on each other to keep from sleeping through the precious final hours before our tests. There was a vivid memory of sitting in a tiny room with Judy, pouring out my worry and confusion, and the accompanying careful listening, acceptance and words of care I had come to know. There were thoughts of outrageously silly antics with Tia and Teri. Of notes and hugs of encouragement and congratulations from Jane. Of advice and caring from Martha. And so much more from so many more.

How could I possibly organize such thoughts? I couldn't; I can't, but I think you all know what I'm talking about. Whether my remembrances move you to tears or make you think I'm a sentimental sap, you know what I mean.

That's really what this issue of the Magazine is about: the value of Theta membership in its many forms. Like the contents of this issue, it ranges from practical necessities to feelings of which my words on paper are not worthy.

This issue contains the supply of information you need for rush, including the rush directory, and a rush recommendation form so you may sponsor a family member or friend for membership in Kappa Alpha Theta. There is a story of devastation that is overcome by sisterly support in Topeka, Kan., and an update on the Fraternity's regional directors. News about our newest chapter at Yale comes to us via Chapter Consultant Melissa Crane. And there's an interesting look at Theta from a variety of viewpoints, from new initiate to Theta father.

All my Theta college friends live far away now, but I think of them often. We keep in touch. I know they're always there. And I've been fortunate, also, to make some wonderful new friends in Theta in the last few years.

Regardless of your present Theta status—collegian, alumna, involved in Theta or not—I hope this issue encourages you to think about what Theta has meant to you and what it means to you now. Theta opportunities are always available to you, and Theta friends are everywhere.

Loyally,

Susan Holloway

What is the value of membership?

Membership: the lifetime cycle

Initiated yesterday—I'm really a Theta!

If you were to describe the value of a family by discussing the house in which they live, the clothing they wear, the food they eat and the financial support they provide each other, you would be offering a pretty inadequate description. Those material values, important as they are, would mean little without the features of a good family life that aren't as visible: unconditional love, caring and concern, guidance, respect and support.

Describing the value of membership in Kappa Alpha Theta is a somewhat similar situation. Although there are numerous tangible rewards of which Thetas can be proud, there are also those benefits of membership that are easier felt than seen—those upon which it is difficult to place a value. For every tangible benefit Theta offers, there are also many intangibles.

From the day Theta was founded, more than 116 years ago, one of ter has a scholarship chairman and program. The Fraternity and the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation support educational programs and award both undergraduate and graduate scholarships to worthy Thetas.

These formal programs would not be as meaningful, however, without a commitment to scholastic achievement and high educational goals by our members. Upperclassmen achievers set good examples for new initiates. Members take time to study with pledges. Sisters make certain their roommates don't sleep through their 8 a.m. tests.

Academic achievement is one part of Theta's pursuit of excellence in all endeavors. That concern is also manifested in our promotion of leadership development. Every two years a national leadership conference brings together collegians and alumnae from all over North America. And year-round workshops that help develop leadership skills are part of college and alumnae activities. Through the Fraternity's creative programming and broad officer responsibilities, our chapters offer members a unique atmosphere to develop as leaders.

Perhaps less obvious, but no less important, is the guidance and support that chapter leaders receive from sisters and alumnae advisers. Pledges find role models in new sisters. Upperclassmen encourage members to interview for campus leadership positions. Sisters are given encouragement, guidance and acceptance for their leadership work, both in and outside of the Fraternity, in times of achievement as well as times when mistakes, inevitable in the learning process, are made.

Thetas not only reach out to each other, but to other Greek organizations and campus groups, to communities and to those less fortunate. Nationally, the Foundation supports the Institute of Logopedics and sponsors the Community Involvement Program. College and alumnae chapters support many different local concerns by raising money and giving of their time and energy.

The Fraternity asks members to strive for a positive social influence on each other and others. One of the best examples is Theta's Alcohol Awareness Program, which informs and educates members about the dangers of alcohol abuse and encourages responsible attitudes about drinking. Chapters are awarded for effective alcohol awareness programs that include sponsoring campus alcohol awareness seminars and non-alcohol social functions.

Individual social support of members has perhaps the most influence. Members help each other through both the joyful and the difficult times in college life. Individuals representing a spectrum of attitudes, backgrounds, interests and experiences learn to get along with each other. They learn to accept differences, respect them and appreciate others for who they are. Theta sisters provide an outpouring of understanding and support that is not always easy to find elsewhere.

That Theta caring does not end with college. The Fraternity's Friendship Fund allows Theta members to request anonymous gifts of money to help Thetas in desperate financial need. The Theta Connection Program, a career resource network, works for new graduates, those making career changes and for women who are re-entering the job market. And, of course, Theta alumnae chapters and clubs provide immediate links to new communities.

Once again, though, Theta's real value often comes through less formal experiences. Everyday in Theta there are opportunities to get to know women of all ages, women who have families, women in all kinds of career positions, women who are caring, energetic, inspiring. Women who care and who share one common bond—Theta.

Being a Theta is not magic. Membership does not guarantee a fantastic social life or straight As. It cannot automatically make you a better person. But from pledge pin to 75-year badge and beyond, Theta can have a profoundly positive influence on your life if you choose. If you want to be involved, to grow to be the best you can be, to develop strong and lasting friendships, Theta is there—for a lifetime.

Just received my 50-year pin. Has it really been that long? A pledge sister from way back sent me flowers. That's what keeps me young!

Helen Schutte Kueffner (right), Upsilon, has been a Theta for 80 years. At 97 she still enjoys her music, gardening, travels, reading and her associations with Theta. Kueffner is a charter member of the Chevy Chase Thetas (above). Although the average age of the group has moved from 40 to 80, two things remain the same: their sisterly love and the 50 cents each contribute to help the Gamma Mu Chapter at the University of Maryland.

What does Theta mean to you?

New Initiate

Founding Epsilon Tau at Yale has been a battle against stereotypes, both Greek and female, but we are making progress. Yale is a campus where traditions are still predominately male. Thus, fraternities have had an easier time finding a niche by establishing themselves as but another extension of the "old boy network." Our chapter is faced with both the challenge and the privilege of forging traditions for generations of future Yale women.

This unique opportunity has allowed us to feel especially close to the spirit and ideals of Bettie Locke Hamilton. After all, what could be more beneficial to the cause of female advancement than a group of women coming together not for political, artistic, or athletic endeavor, but for friendship—purely and simply.

"Purposeful giving is not apt to deplete one's resources. It belongs to that natural order of giving that seems to renew itself even in the act of giving. The more one gives, the more one has to give."

—Anne Morrow Lindbergh

This quote could not be more applicable to Stanford's Phi Deuteron Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. Theta has played a significant role in my life over the past two years. As pledge educator, I had the privilege of introducing 45 marvelous pledges to our group. At that time I had the opportunity to really evaluate what Theta means to me.

I found it isn't the weekly chapter meetings, the service projects, or the social activities that are more important. It is the lifelong friendships I have formed with truly quality women. It is the support and encouragement I consistently find within our group. It is the special bond I share with my grandmothers knowing we are all Thetas together.

As the newly-elected president of Phi Deuteron, I am proud to lead a group I believe in so strongly. I will gladly give my all for them, and I am confident that they will do the same for me!

Upon graduation in 1980, I had the unique opportunity to observe Theta on the national level when, for one year, I acted as a Kappa Alpha Theta Chapter Consultant. Now, six years later, Kappa Alpha Theta is more than only happy memories—Theta remains a standard of excellence and expectation.

Two specific areas that are particularly influenced by Theta are my work and social life. Rarely found in the working world are people like the dedicated alumnae who guide Theta: organized women with foresight and the ability to realize their goals. Women who work for the good of the Fraternity, donating their time and tireless energy for the ideals they still embrace. Wherever I have met Thetas, I have found highly motivated, intelligent, talented women. I cherish my Theta friendships. Their measure has affected making new and meaningful friendships within the community. Now, when I do meet a woman with such admirable qualities, I occasionally have had the pleasant surprise to find that she is a Theta too!

When I think of my Theta college experience, I think of friendship. There were 13 in our pledge class, a large number at Purdue for those days. Reviewing the names of the dozen I shared pledgeship and initiation with, I find I've been in touch with everyone, off and on, through two reunions and over the numerous years.

Now, those of us still living often exchange letters and phone calls. Someone said to me once, "Yes, you develop friendship living in a college dorm, but there isn't that closeness." How right! Theta friendship stays close in your heart forever.

Mary Margaret Garrard

Father of Theta

Any father will say that all daughters are different. Emily isn't just any Kappa Alpha Theta, but there's a good chance that there are many similar cases.

Emily and Kappa Alpha Theta selected each other, recognizing and allowing the differences that exist between people. Em expressed that ideal as part of her talent in the Junior Miss program. Her song included, "I've Gotta Be Me!"

She's still Emily, but the relationships have given her a broader perspective, and, as is typical of Emily, considerable challenge and an inestimable sense of accomplishment. She has also discovered that several friends at other schools have become members of Kappa Alpha Theta.

C. D. Reece

Mother of Thetas

Having been affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta as a non-Theta parent for almost eight years, it has been a pleasure to watch my daughters grow into womanhood enjoying a very special Theta bond. They have given much time and effort to Theta, but will reap the benefits throughout their lives.

I can see that the Theta bond of caring will last a lifetime. It is a privilege to be a Theta parent!

Kappa Alpha Theta has been a very exciting part of my college life at Ball State University. Words could not express all the fun times and closeness to others it has brought me. I think that I will treasure most of all the close relationships that I have formed, not only with friends at school but also with my family.

Marta Miller
Delta Sigma

Having two daughters involved in Theta brings back many memories. Grace Ann, a pledge at Purdue, reminds me of the fun times I had living as a pledge in the Theta chapter house at Butler University. Marta, at Ball State University, reminds me of the close fellowship I shared with other girls. I hope Theta will mean as much to my daughters through the years as it has to me.

How exciting it is to have two daughters in college carrying on the legacy of Kappa Alpha Theta in our family.

Grace Goodwin Miller
Gamma

Kappa Alpha Theta means so very much to me. It is pride, love, friendship, sincerity and the most outstanding woman's fraternity. One is always proud to say, "I'm a Theta."

When I was pledged and initiated I was happy and pleased to belong to the best. Since graduation from college and through the years, Theta has meant even more because of friends and connections I have made, plus an appreciation for the depth and scope of the many projects Kappa Alpha Theta Fraternity sponsors.

Message From The PRESIDENT

Recently, two Council members, who had just finished a training session for new officers, were talking about answering all the "what if" questions and explaining what an exhausting experience it was. It is easy to understand what they meant. New officers want to be prepared for every possible situation, and they wanted to know what they should do in every imaginable case. Answering those questions takes a lot of brain work!

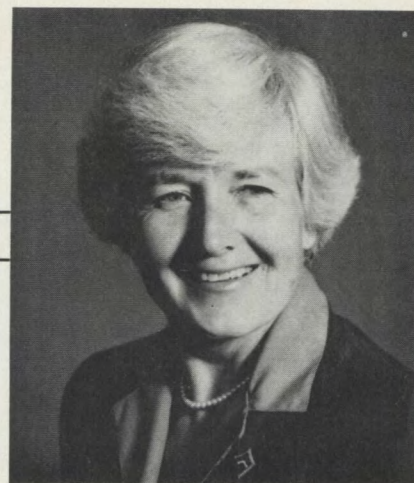

When the Council members said "what if" questions, however, my mind turned to another channel, and I started thinking about a TV program on creativity. I only caught a small portion of it, but the important message I did hear was that creative people ask the question "What if?".

It was like a revelation to me. If instead of approaching every problem or situation from the viewpoint of, "This is the way we have always done it; This is the way others do it; This is the way we can do it," just think what a difference it would mean if we only started approaching it from the standpoint of, "What if . . . ?".

You cannot even say these words without feeling a challenge. Doesn't it make your mind want to stretch to new heights just by thinking those words?

What if every Theta . . .

- asked herself what she could do for Theta?
- wrote one recommendation?
- gave $5 to LITF?
- called or visited an older woman in her community?

Grand President Sue F. Supple

- wore her badge one day?
 - told one other person what Theta means to her?
- What difference could Theta make? THE SKY'S THE LIMIT!

Loyally,

Sue F. Supple
Grand President

KAΘ Letters

Theta worldwide

Dear Ms. Holloway:

The purpose of this letter is to request that the KAΘ Magazine be sent to me here in Spain. I am a Theta from Delta Lambda Chapter at the University of Utah. I graduated from the "U" in December 1984 and started my MBA last September at IESE, the Graduate School of Business of the University of Navarra. The program is very demanding, but rewarding because it has given me the opportunity to meet people from all over the world.

I would like to receive the Magazine while going to school here in Spain, because I miss not knowing what is going on in Thetaland. I brought many of my Theta clothes and my pin with me. I just could not part with them. When I wear my letters to class, people ask me what they mean, and I explain with much pride that they say Kappa Alpha Theta, the first Greek letter fraternity known among women.

Loyally in Theta,
Anneliese Bendit

Giving editorial support

Dear Susan Stephan Holloway:

I would like to show my support of the new direction the Theta Magazine is taking under your editorship. Please print more feature articles. I for one want to know more about Thetas all over the world and what they are doing. There are so many important, provocative and challenging issues facing women today. College women, it seems, are faced with the challenge as soon as we finish school. In your editorial you alluded to just one of the many juggling acts we face: you have a daughter and a magazine, not to mention your home, husband, family and self.

I sincerely hope that I can count on the Theta Magazine being a part of my ongoing education, rather than simply a souvenir of my past education. Good luck!

Yours in Theta,
Katherine Koller Wensel

Question of substance

Dear Editor,

I was really disappointed in your article on Amy Grant. I have long been a fan of hers (before she went secular) and that interview seemed very shallow. It lacked depth, and I don't know if the wrong questions were asked or the answers were silly. Perhaps a combination of the two. May I suggest that you print articles on less well known Thetas with more substance? (I'm not knocking Amy Grant, I just think that article was terrible.)

Sincerely,
Kathleen Van Every

Epsilon Tau:

Theta establishes a Yale tradition

Kappa Alpha Theta, the first Greek letter fraternity known among women, is also the first and only National Panhellenic Conference group on Yale University's campus.

A unique group of sophomore Yale women entered the pledgeship of Epsilon Tau colony of Kappa Alpha Theta September 29, 1985. From that day on, the women of Epsilon Tau were determined to experience the traditions that have made Theta what she is today, and to enrich the social life at Yale. They battled the negative stereotypes of the Greek system held by some Yale students, as well as their own questions about this "new" women's fraternity that was forming at Yale.

During their pledgeship, the Yale collegians gathered at weekly meetings, enjoyed sitting together at football games and took part in social activities with the men's fraternities. They also hosted a Halloween party for underprivileged New Haven children as a service project.

The Epsilon Tau pledges sometimes invited college masters and deans to join them at their Monday night dinners. This proved to be an excellent opportunity for the women to explain exactly what Kappa Alpha Theta is, and why they believe it has a place at Yale.

Alumnae support was another positive aspect of the Epsilon Tau pledgeship. The Fairfield Alumnae Chapter hosted a shower for the colony, and New Haven alumnae took an active part in the colony's Big/Little Sister Program.

Installation of the 109th chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta took place January 24 through 26 in New Haven, Conn. The Theta-filled weekend began Friday with the loyalty service and continued with the initiation ceremony Saturday morning. The banquet and charter service were held at the Yale Graduates Club. All those present clearly felt the warmth of Theta within that traditional Yale setting. Final events on Sunday included a model chapter meeting, church service and a campus reception, held at the Pier-son College Common Room.

The Epsilon Tau installation team included: Grand President Sue Supple; Grand Vice-President Finance Carryl Krohne; College District President Joyce Ann Vitelli; Alumnae District President Margaret Ricks; Central Office Associate Executive Secretary-Treasurer Ann Meeks; Betsy Sierk, Central Office administrative assistant; and Melissa Crane and Kim Massey, chapter consultants. The local installation chairman was Avery Flowers, and Alpha Epsilon Chapter at Brown University shared their loyalty and dedication to the Fraternity by serving as the assisting chapter.

Throughout their pledgship, the ten Epsilon Tau charter members watched each other gain respect and pride in the ideals and traditions of Kappa Alpha Theta. They learned to better accept other personalities and to take an active interest in each individual pledge sister.

The love and understanding of Theta that the members attained were best expressed at the charter service by Epsilon Tau Chapter President Patricia Lizarraga, "Theta at Yale is both the continuing of traditions more than a century old, and the birth of new traditions at Yale. Just as our founder Bettie Locke Hamilton forged a path, established traditions and cleared the way for thousands of women in North America, we the members of Epsilon Tau Chapter feel we are forging a path, establishing traditions and clearing the way for generations of Yale women to come."

For Theta and for Yale, it was a historically significant weekend, and just the beginning for Epsilon Tau Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

When The Sky Fell On

A tornado destroyed the Alpha Upsilon chapter house almost 20 years ago, on June 8, 1966.

Alpha Upsilon's House

In times of trouble, one's family is the first to extend love and support. Twenty years ago on June 8, 1966, the Alpha Upsilon Thetas of Washburn University in Topeka, Kan., discovered this truth after a tornado destroyed their Theta home. Immediately following the devastating tornado, the Topeka alumnae went to work raising funds to rebuild. The response from Theta sisters was overwhelming, and Alpha Upsilon Thetas realized just what Theta love and sisterhood meant.

Luckily, the collegians had completed final exams and were on their way to their homes when the tornado struck. Although the structure was condemned, the alumnae entered the house to salvage what they could; a few pieces of furniture and a set of candlesticks are still in use in the chapter house today. Unbelievably, several pieces of Theta china were also saved. As part of the fund-raising effort, these china pieces were sold to alumnae members. One piece remains framed in the dining room of the house.

Bricks from the Theta chapter house also were sold. A little tornado was painted on the bricks, along with the dates the home was built and destroyed. (The painting was done by Alpha Upsilon Theta Marguerite Nellis Wakeman.) A tremendous writing campaign was undertaken by the Alpha Upsilon members, asking sisters for donations. Through all these efforts, Alpha Upsilon Thetas raised more than $80,000.

In addition to more than $50,000 in insurance, a reserve fund of several thousand dollars had been accumulated over the years due to the generosity of Thetas and good management by the Alpha Upsilon Corporation Board and the college chapter. The board, led by Margaret Wehe Dumars, had an option on some land located off campus, and the Kappa Alpha Theta Grand Council recommended its purchase. The Council felt it would be advantageous to own the land on which the corporation board built.

In the late 1960s, fraternities and sororities were having public relations problems. There even was some doubt of their future existence. It could have been a convenient time for Washburn University to close its doors to the chapter. Instead, the president of the University expressed his support for Theta, saying he wanted Alpha Upsilon to remain at Washburn. They were staying. They only needed a home.

During the Fall of 1966, rush parties were held in a Washburn dormitory next door to the destroyed Theta chapter house. Just before one party began, the girls were saddened by the sight of a wrecking ball hitting the side of the house, demolishing it. It took a lot of courage for these girls to turn around, put on their Theta smiles and enjoy their party.

During the same year, the collegians lived in a four-bedroom house nearby. Even though the girls had little room in which to work and study, they were able to earn the highest scholastic average for Thetas nationwide. After that first year, the collegians moved into a set of apartments across from the campus. Rush parties were held in homes of the alumnae, and the members met at a local restaurant for Monday night dinners. Quarters were cramped in the house and in the apartments, leaving little privacy for the collegians. Through it all, though, they hung in together and found themselves stronger and closer than ever before.

In April, 1970, a $20,000 loan was obtained through a local savings and loan, and Alpha Upsilon asked Grand Council for $40,000 from the Chapter Loan Fund of the Fraternity to complete the fund raising. In response, Theta national sisters sent $50,000. This loan was so important, for it meant the completion of the chapter's home. They could not have made it without Theta sisters everywhere.

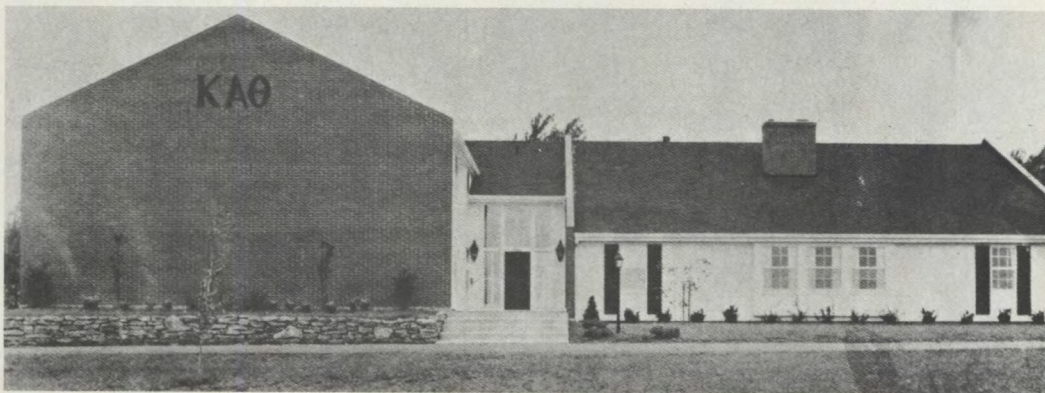

In August, 1970, when they were able to move into their new home, the Alpha Upsilon collegians were among the happiest girls in the world. Everything was so exciting that first year: the rush parties, the Monday night dinners and chapter meetings. Best of all were the nights the collegians stayed home enjoying one another, sharing evenings that today are special memories. As Kappa Alpha Theta Grand President Sue Supple said in the Winter 1985 issue of The Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine, "There is something about sharing a secret or some great joy with a sister." In 1970 there was such "great joy" to be shared by collegians and alumnae alike.

It is funny how out of everything bad there comes something good. Out of Topeka's tornado, the Alpha Upsilon collegians and alumnae grew stronger and closer among themselves, as well as among the national Thetas. Without that support, the task would have been so much more difficult.

Thanks to Alpha Upsilon's Theta sisters, as of April, 1985, their Theta home was paid for in full. More than money, more than the house, Alpha Upsilon Thetas thank their Theta sisters for the love and support they discovered they had all along. It has only grown! That is what Theta sisterhood is all about.

Mary C. Wilds
Alpha Upsilon

The new Theta chapter house on the Washburn University campus in Topeka, Kan., was opened in the Fall of 1970, much to the delight of Alpha Upsilon members. As of April, 1985, the house was paid for in full.

Dian Fossey 1932-1985

American naturalist Dian Fossey, Gamma Xi, died in December, 1985 in Rwanda Africa. It was reported that Fossey may have been murdered by hired assassins sent to recover a witchcraft amulet.

The 53-year-old primatologist had studied the habits of Rwanda's rare mountain gorillas for 18 years. She was buried in a cemetery she built for 13 gorillas that were killed by poachers.

OF PEOPLE

Collegians

Annette Epelbaum, Beta Nu, recently received a $1,000 scholarship from the Democratic Women's Group of Florida. The Florida State Theta was also a Truman Scholar runner-up and the youngest delegate to the 1984 National Democratic Convention in San Francisco.

Miami University senior Mary K. Adams was one of 52 students from across the country chosen to attend Beta Gamma Sigma's three-day forum for business students and faculty. The finance major from St. Joseph, Mich., was nominated by Miami University's Beta Gamma Sigma chapter, of which she is a member.

Susan M. Brooks, a member of Alpha Chi Chapter at Purdue and a junior majoring in electrical engineering, was chosen National Dreamgirl of Phi Kappa Tau in 1985.

She was chosen from a group of five finalists by undergraduate and graduate delegates at the 47th National Phi Tau convention.

Susan was nominated by Phi Kappa Tau's Lambda Chapter at Purdue. Nominees were judged on campus involvement, scholastics and personality.

Alumnae

In January, the American Hiking Society announced that Katharine Fernald Beebe, Lambda/Vermont, was named the recipient of two of the nation's most prestigious conservation awards.

OF EVENTS

Professional golfer Patty Sheehan, Charles Kuralt of CBS and the Santa Cruz County Alumnae Club of Kappa Alpha Theta were all on hand Sept. 24, 1985, for "A Day With Patty Sheehan & Friends." The event, sponsored by the local Theta club, benefited Tigh Sheehan, a group home for emotionally damaged young women, which is supported and maintained by Patty Sheehan.

Susan M. Brooks

For several years, the 20 members of the Santa Cruz club have made Easter baskets for one of the group homes. The members are interested in the welfare of the homes' residents, so when the director of the group homes asked them to sponsor a benefit, they readily agreed. The Thetas spent about three months planning and organizing the golf clinic and fashion show, according to Jean Smith Dobey, club president. With the cooperation of area golf professionals, they secured raffle prizes, sold tickets, selected models and clothing, and publicized the event.

The dates of the benefit were coordinated so that CBS "Sunday Morning's" Charles Kuralt, who was in California doing a segment on Sheehan, could film the event. The exciting and successful benefit cleared more than $8,900, all of which will benefit the Tigh Sheehan residential program.

Alpha Pi alumnae living in the Minneapolis area are proud to be among 100 volunteers who have worked diligently for the University of Minnesota Children's Cancer Fund. The fifth annual "Dawn of a Dream" benefit concert for children's cancer was held Nov. 19, 1985, in St. Paul, Minn. Dionne Warwick was the featured entertainer for the sellout event, which netted a profit of $158,000. Additional contributions brought the total gift to $235,000.

Jane Ramsland, Alpha Pi, was one of 12 women who began working with the mother of a young cancer victim in 1981 and formed the Children's Cancer Research Fund to help fight cancer. Ramsland was selected to serve as chairperson of the 1985 fund drive. Other Alpha Pi alumnae who were instrumental to the success of the humanitarian effort were: Carol Oliver Daniels, Katherine Taovasia Faras, Linda Ramsland Higgins, Barbara Toomey Paulson, Julie Damanski Mowery and Nancy Burbidge.

Halloween 1985 was a frightfully fun night in Fort Collins, Colo. Members of the Beta Gamma Chapter at Colorado State University, in cooperation with Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and the local Sertoma men's club, hosted a Halloween Carnival for the children of Fort Collins.

The carnival provided a fun and safe alternative to trick-or-treating. Families arrived in costume at the Fort Collins Lincoln Center and enjoyed food and games all evening. The annual carnival raises money for the Rocky Mountain Sertoma Club's donation to Colorado State University. This year's earnings of nearly $1,000 will be used as a scholarship for a Colorado State student majoring in communications disorders, or will be awarded to a student with a speech or hearing disorder.

Theta friendship is a lasting privilege for nine Gamma Pi alumnae who have kept in touch via class newsletters, phone calls, ladies' luncheons and couples' potlucks in the San Francisco Bay area. The Iowa State Thetas, representing four different pledge classes, lived in the chapter house at the same time more than 30 years ago. And last summer, for the third consecutive year, these sisters and their husbands gathered for a weekend reunion. From the Friday night opening barbecue to Sunday's farewell lunch, the group's reunion agenda includes talking, eating, photograph sharing, hiking, jogging, swimming, and more talking and eating. Future plans call for a return to Lake Tahoe, the 1983 reunion site, in 1986.

For more than 40 years, a handful of Beta Iota Thetas from Colorado University have kept their college Theta friendships active through an informal group called Platter and Chatter—so named because the main activities are eating and talking! It all started at a Theta alumnae meeting in 1943 when Dolores and Alice Plested, who had just moved back to Denver, found themselves talking with several old CU roommates. They all agreed that they would enjoy more time to talk, and arranged another meeting. A tradition of monthly meetings at different homes developed. They were happy gatherings with Theta songs, good food and endless reminiscing. Through the years, the members of the group went through weddings, deaths, births of children and grandchildren—always giving loving Theta support through both happy and tragic times.

Eventually the gatherings dwindled to every two months, then every four. Now the group meets once each year for a reunion. But this unique group meeting has a special place in the lives of all "P & Cers." Thanks to Kappa Alpha Theta, who brought them together.

There is a finger of land in Wisconsin, extending north into Lake Michigan, known as Door County. For many it is a summer paradise; for others, home. More than 60 Thetas claim Door County addresses and most have attended at least one or two of the luncheon reunions held annually in mid-July for the past four years. Other faithful sisters from Milwaukee, Shawano, Appleton and Green Bay have also joined the fun. It is a mixed group, with initiation dates ranging from the early 1920s to the '80s, and a wide variety of chapters are represented each year. The enthusiasm and hard work of Mary Brandriff, ably assisted by Pat Boldt, started what has now become a Door County tradition. The 1986 event will be a brunch to be held at the Baileys Harbor Yacht Club, Friday, July 18 at 11 a.m. Please drop in if you're in the area!

Update On Theta OFFICERS

Regional Directors fill newly created positions

Two years ago at Grand Convention in Nashville, Tenn., the delegate body voted to accept a new Fraternity officer structure. Working with the concept of fewer Grand Council members, a restructuring committee, headed by Gwynn Geiger Mannes, proposed that the Fraternity add middle management level positions. Following Convention, Grand President Sue Supple asked for suggestions to implement the proposal.

Janet Peters, Grand Vice-President Alumnae, suggested that her program could use three directors to serve regions throughout the country by providing a needed liaison between alumnae district presidents and Grand Council. The result was the birth of the alumnae regional director positions, and the appointment of three former alumnae district presidents: Hilda McElhenney Griffith, ARD western region; Dorothy Stalker Reehling, ARD central region; and Sandra Blymyer Cross, ARD eastern region.

With the success of the new alumnae regional directors, Carol Brehman, Grand Vice-President College, proposed the creation of college regional director positions. The proposal was accepted and three former college district presidents were appointed: Nancy Milligan Frick, CRD Districts III, VI, XI, XVI, XVIII; Marilyn Holappa Nicholls, CRD Districts II, V, VIII, X, XII, XIV; and Lil Breul O'Rourke, CRD Districts I, IV, VII, XIII, XV, XVII.

The regional director positions are serving the Fraternity well by providing a vital link between local chapters and clubs, and national officers. The regional director program is helping alleviate some of the numerous administrative duties of Grand Council members, thus making Council positions more manageable. And the program is helping enable Kappa Alpha Theta to continue to function effectively as the Fraternity grows.

In Memoriam

Jeanne Ross Miller
Foundation Trustee 1976-1982

Jeanne Ross Miller, Eta, died February 26 in Clearwater Beach, Fla. She is survived by her husband, Frank.

Jeanne Miller's many years of service to the Foundation and Fraternity include serving as president of the Evanston-North Shore Alumnae Chapter, Alumnae District President-District II, member of the Centennial Committee, member of the National Headquarters Steering Committee, and as treasurer of the Kappa Alpha Theta Foundation during her term as a trustee from 1976 to 1982.

In October, 1985, Foundation trustees named a graduate scholarship in honor of Jeanne's loyal service to Kappa Alpha Theta. The Jeanne Ross Miller Graduate Scholarship will be awarded each year beginning in June, 1986.

Jeanne Ross Miller

Foundation counts nearly 250 Life Members

The Foundation's Life Members category is a special classification awarded to Thetas who have given $1,000 or more to the Foundation. The Spring issue of The Kappa Alpha Theta Magazine mistakenly noted 25 Life Members. Actually, there are nearly 250 Life Members. Tax-deductible gifts to the Foundation fund scholarships, research for the hearing impaired, grants to local charities, and help support leadership training and the Fraternity's educational programs.
